Client Spotlight

Houses of Worship

Discover what Churches across Scotland have installed to aid Worship.

When your message is of the greatest significance, utilising the best available audio visual tools to enhance the delivery of your ministry and to engage with your congregation is fundamental.

We have assisted many Churches across Scotland in spreading the Good News – whether it be the original Church Building, the Hall or other Pastoral Centre.

Public Address & Induction Loops

Inveraray Parish Church approached us with the request of designing a sympathetic PA and Assisted Listening Solution for the Church. Designed by Robert Mylne in 1792, the Church was practically completed by 1802 – and had never had any voice reinforcement system permanently installed.

Access Audio Visual designed the system to the exact requirements of the client – including the Minister, Session Clerk and Choir!

The system used components from Phonic, Tannoy and Audio-Technica.

"We have used our new sound system for the first time in the church on Sunday and the congregation are very impressed with the quality of the sound and the quality of the installation. On behalf of the Congregation of Glenaray and Inveraray I would like to thank you for an excellent job as well as very reasonable pricing. It has been a pleasure to deal with you. We would be happy to recommend your services to any Church."

Long Range Projection & Ancillary Screens

Castlehill Parish Church approached us after seeing an innovative Projector setup we had installed into a nearby secondary school. As a 1960s building the angled galleries presented a challenge on how best to integrate a projection system. Replicating the setup in the nearby school was impossible so a twin LCD screen solution was installed to the underside of the galleries with a long throw projector at the rear of the Church projecting to a 3m wide rigid framed screen above the Chancel – see above.

The system used components from Sanyo, Unicol and LG.

"Sunday went really well. The colours are amazing. I used it again tonight for midweek service and I've received only positive comments. Really pleased with whole service and, in fact, I passed on your details to some colleagues today at a meeting."
